Overview

ENTRENCHED IN THE FINANCE INDUSTRY

We work closely with many different stakeholders in the banking and financial services sectors, including banks, borrowers and private equity clients, among others.

On the transactional side, we routinely represent lenders and borrowers in negotiating and documenting secured and unsecured commercial loans of all sizes. We also represent clients in the acquisition and sale of loans as well as document the restructuring of troubled credit facilities both in and out of bankruptcy.

Knowing that transactions are often time-sensitive, we are skilled at meeting tight deadlines. We cost-effectively represent clients in standard commercial mortgage and asset-based loans, as well as complex loan transactions, which sometime involve complicated intercreditor relationships. Our attorneys understand where our clients derive value from loan facilities and place a premium on efficiency to maximize that value.

In the litigation arena, we frequently represent clients in financial services litigation in state and federal courts in matters involving debt collection, loan defaults, lender liability, breach of fiduciary duty, and employment matters, among others.
